

Consultant
MA in Education Lancaster University
Lead on education and elite sport
Accredited Equality Standard Adviser

ATTRIBUTES

A capable and very experienced development oriented educator. Highly sophisticated interpersonal skills at all levels with developing business coaching and mentoring expertise. Creative and professional in all that he does, respected by colleagues in all areas of professional and voluntary involvement. Jeremy is enthusiastic, energetic and highly motivated towards achievement goals in whatever he becomes involved.

Jeremy's skills include facilitation and mentoring with a wide variety of groups across various areas of work, project planning and delivery, coach education and development; a logical thinker who can write effectively and present reports to meet the needs of the audience.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- Part of team that piloted the Equality Standard for Sport across the UK
- Accredited equality adviser providing support to UKSport, sportscotland and the Sports Council for Northern Ireland
- Developed courses and materials for the UK Athletics UKCC coaching programme
- UKA national Trainer for Coach education
- Designed leadership programme for Sports Professionals across England
- Building structures and processes for the formation of the 45 Sports Partnerships
- Established the North West Youth Sports Programme
- Founder member of an innovatory team established to work as advisory teachers with disaffected pupils across secondary schools in Lancashire
- Participated in the Olympic Games in Sydney as coach to a GB athlete
- 30 years coaching with athletes to county, regional, national and Olympic standard
- Level four tutor coach.

AMBITIONS

- Equality really embedded within the activities of all governing bodies
- A strong coach education programme that fully embraces the real meaning of the word, challenges coaches to think, develops their understandings and unites them on behalf of all athletes
- Keep my golf handicap below Nikki's!

WHAT I LIKE ABOUT VAGA

Team work that challenges us all to cooperate in the pursuit of quality solutions to challenging issues.